FOR FR. ANSELM

BIG DAY AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH IN HIS HONOR.

A 33-YEARS' PASTORATE

Protestants Also Told of Love Thirty Years' Acquaintance Had Fostered—Basket Dinner in Basement.

Sunday was a big day at St. Mary's Catholic church. It was a home-coming in honor of Rev. Fr. Anselm, who just returned Friday from a several months' trip in Europe, and a visit to his mother at Lucerne, Switzerland. A basket dinner in his honor was given in the basement of the church at the noon hour, served by the members of the church. Everything good to eat and plenty of it was there.

While Fr. Anselm and all the dinner guests were taking their places at the well-laden tables, the children of St. Mary's school sang a welcome song. Frank Linneman, a young boy, made a welcome address to Fr. Anselm on behalf of the children after all were seated.

Several people from outside the church were invited to be guests at the dinner, all close friends of Fr. Anselm. They were Judge W. C. Ellison, W. A. Blagg, W. C. Pierce, W. F. Phares, James Todd, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hosmer, Mr. and Mrs. Berney Harris, Dr. and Mrs. C. V. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Shoemaker, James B. Robinson and Edward Keck.

During the serving of the dinner music was furnished by an orchestra of five pieces with Miss Hilda Lahr at the piano.

Augustus Romasser presided as toastmaster and made a fine talk in welcoming Fr. Anselm back to his parish. He spoke of the time Fr. Anselm took charge of the church, thirty-three years ago, and what he had accomplished in that time, a few being a good church building free of debt, a magnificent school building, and St. Francis hospital. He referred to the love and esteem the church people held for him, and that it extended outside of the church to the non-Catholic. On behalf of a few of Fr. Anselm's friends outside of the church, a purse of $100 in gold was presented to the reverend father by Mr. Romasser.

W. A. Blagg was the next speaker, and he spoke of the affection and the love and esteem the people outside the church had for Fr. Anselm. Judge Ellison followed Mr. Blagg with a talk about Fr. Anselm, Mr. Ellison becoming acquainted with him about thirty years ago.

A song was given by the church choir and solos by Miss Bertha Kirch of this city and Mr. R. J. Gallagher of Columbus, O. The choir presented Fr. Anselm a bouquet of flowers.

Fr. Anselm made a short talk and said that on his entire trip of 5,000 miles he had seen many beautiful scenes, but none of them were as beautiful and meant so much to him as did the one at the basket dinner. It was with deep emotion that Fr. Anselm spoke, but every one of his remarks were well listened to by the large audience in attendance.

144 MILES OF ROAD

STATE WILL PAY COUNTY $180 A MONTH FOR DRAGGING.

TO ADVERTISE FOR BIDS

Highway Commission Wants County Seat Roads Dragged This Year—Some May Be Changed.

Nodaway county is going to receive $180 a month for the past three months, August, September and October, or $540, for the dragging of the county seat roads as selected by the Nodaway county highway commission. The county court in session this week will make requisition for that amount on the state treasury. State Highway Engineer Buffum having already approved the claims of this county.

According to the county seat routes as selected by the county commission, the total mileage of state roads is 144 miles in this county. For each mile $15 a year for dragging is allowed by the state. This amount will be paid in monthly installments.

State Highway Engineer Buffum has not inspected the roads as chosen by the county commission and he having allowed the county money for the past three months does not necessarily mean that he has approved the roads as selected by the commission here. It is thought that Buffum will change some of the roads next spring, but that in the meantime the county will receive money for the 144 miles.

The county commission intends to advertise for bids soon for the dragging of these roads. They would like to have the roads dragged yet this year.

MAKES 'EM SIT UP

RED HEADED DUCK FROM NORTH-WEST HAS GONE FAR AFIELD.

PROVED HIS CAPACITY

Prof. Oakerson Deserves Unstinted Praise for Success of the Recent Gathering Which Endorsed Him.

One of the most noted and important educational gatherings of the state was the joint teachers' association meeting of the counties of Nodaway, Andrew, Holt, Atchison, Gentry and Worth counties, held in this city Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

This meeting was important beyond the ordinary, because of the large number of teachers present from the counties comprising the union and the excellence of the program rendered. Seldom has a program, either state or national, embraced a nearer up-to-date field of educational thought than this one prepared by Mr. Oakerson and his excellent corps of assistants.

Again, the precision and regularity observed in carrying through this excellent program deserve the highest commendation and will receive such commendation from those who have ever had occasion to wrestle with the innumerable difficulties attendant upon carrying out a project in which so many and complicated details are involved.

A highly important end was attained in bringing this meeting to Maryville, the site of our State Normal, and in focusing educational interests around the teachers of the district an opportunity of becoming acquainted with the leaders of educational thought, who work in our Normal here and of looking in upon the management of the school at closer range, as well as the opportunity of viewing the splendid equipment the state has so generously provided.

It has thus come about that the queen city of the northwest is no longer afar off in an obscure corner beyond recognition, but has come into place in the fore-front of things and is the observed of all observers, so that when we offer to the state an opportunity to utilize the energy and efficiency in a broader sphere of activity of the man who does things and brings things to pass—the people of other parts of the state will sit up and take notice that the red-headed duck from the northwest has already gone far afield, and that all this people will stand loyally back of his pretensions for they know what his unobtrusive but determined energy can do.

If Prof. Oakerson had done no more than to bring our city and our Normal into prominence he would deserve high credit; but when we recognize the fact that through his judicious care and thoughtful consideration there was brought together here on our home platform an aggregation of talent whose range of thought was broad enough to cover the widest field of human endeavor, easily comparable to any, even the best Chautauque menu, he is deserving of unstinted praise.

Not to discriminate against other and excellent numbers on the program, should not special emphasis be put upon the lectures of Steiner, Day, Athearn and Carney, as furnishing food for thought away beyond the average?

To honor the several superintendents of the counties represented by assigning positions on the program was delicately and thoughtfully planned, leaving no room for criticism, even to the most sensitive, evincing high-bred courtesy on the part of the management.

Mr. Oakerson and his compeers have again made good, and The Democrat-Forum says amen to the resolution endorsing him for a wider field of activity, that of state superintendent of schools.

BARNARD TOOK FIRST.

Their School Had Greatest Number of Exhibits—Won $40 Prize Money.

Much interest was manifested by the different schools over the county in the domestic science and corn growing contest held in connection with the joint teachers' association in this city. ## BANQUETED THE ABBOT.

The Conception college students succeeded in preparing a birthday surprise for the worthy abbot, Frowin Conrad, of the Conception parish, on Saturday evening, on the eve of his eightieth birthday anniversary, which was Sunday.

Although announcement had been made in the papers that the day would be celebrated, the students managed to keep the papers from the notice of the abbot, and the affair proved to be a complete surprise, as they had intended it to be.

Saturday evening at 6 o'clock Abbot Frowin was summoned to the dining hall of the college, and thinking he was being called on special business, responded at once, and when the door opened to admit him he was greeted with cheers from the students and a burst of music from the college orchestra. He was escorted to a seat at the banquet table before he could hardly realize what was on.

The whole affair was in charge of the students. M. L. Leahy acted as toastmaster. The opening address was made by J. J. McCaffray; an address in Latin by R. J. Roney; an address in German by Fritz Baumgarten, and an acrostic poem to the abbot by A. McDonnell. This was followed by a speech from one of the junior boys, R. Newton. Then Dr. L. J. Randurant of St. Joseph, an alumni of the college, gave an address in praise of the abbot's work, and all of these were responded to at the close by a splendid extemporaneous speech from Abbot Frowin, who appreciated the demonstration the college boys had made for him.

At the close of the abbot's speech, Mr. J. McCaffrey read letters and telegrams and cablegrams of congratulations to Abbot Frowin from Bishop Burke of St. Joseph, Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis, F. Aidan Gasquet, the abbot Primate of England; Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee, and last was the message conveying papal blessing from the pope at Rome, sent by Abbot Primate, head of the St. Benedictine order of Rome.

High Praise for Maud Powell.

The following article is taken from Musical America, one of the most responsible musical journals in the country. Recent Kubelik and Powell recitals given in New York City are reviewed, and the comparisons made between the work of the two great violinists strongly favor Mme. Powell. That part of the article which relates to the Powell recital is as follows:

While Maud Powell's artistry is of such a calibre as infallibly to delight at any time it was a wise impulse that prompted her to give her first New York recital of the year before the innumerable concerts, recitals and other musical functions with which music lovers of this vicinity are deluged arrive in full force to divide attention. The violinist was welcomed with whole-hearted cordiality at Aeolian hall last Tuesday evening. Her offerings were far from the conventional collection. A novelty to New York, the late Coleridge-Taylor's G Minor Concerto, opened the list, followed by one of the less familiar Bach sonatas, in E. A rather over-lengthy but interestingly atmospheric tone picture by Marion Bauer, "The Ocklawaha River," painted in modern French harmonic colors, followed, while thereafter came short numbers by Grasse, Burleigh, Bergh, Gilbert, Dvorak, Beethoven, Brahms, Sarasate and others.

Mme. Powell's playing disclosed its familiar qualifications—that is, artistic finish, beauty of tone, vitality; emotional sensibility, refinement and rare intelligence in the conception and delivery of each work; rhythmic life and general excellence of technical finish. Her execution of the concerto was marked by breadth, dramatic energy and certain grasp of its content. The work itself is rich in noteworthy ideas, distinguished both in its thematic material and in the treatment thereof.

Francis Moore, a young pianist unfamiliar here, took his place at a board among the foremost accompanists that have been heard in New York in recent years.

Halloween Party for Class.

Miss Halcyon Hooker entertained the members of the Sunday school class of which she is a member, with a Halloween party Saturday evening. The class is of the First Presbyterian church Sunday school and Mrs. Gallatin Craig is the teacher. The guests came in fantastic attire or as ghosts, just as their fancy dictated. Some little time was spent in toasting marshmallows by a fire out in the yard, and then all came into the house where a witch told their fortunes and games played. After the luncheon of cheese sandwiches, apples and nuts and cider, a musical program was given by Hal T. Hooker, Miss Lou Hughes of Hopkins, Helen Rose and Bernice Crawford and the hostess. The members of the class are Sylvia Barr, Faye Farmer, Helen Rose and Bernice Crawford, Margaret Dietz, and Halcyon Hooker. The other guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hooker, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Hooker, Mrs. Gallatin Craig, Miss Laura Craig, Misses Grace Dietz, Mildred Shinabargar, Blanche Masters, Gladys Sewell, Marie Davenport, Lucile Wright, Mildred Hall.

Black Cat Club Celebrated.

Mrs. George R. Eaton of South Main street was hostess to the Black Cat club Saturday evening. The rooms were adorned with black cats of all sizes and ages and lighted by "jack-o'-lanterns" and black cat lanterns. Assisting the hostess in receiving were three ghosts, who proved their genuineness when their hands came off in each of the guests hands they greeted, a terrifying experience to most of them. After the guests had played several games with the ghosts, they unmasked, and lo, they were found to be "men," which nearly created a panic among the "black cats." However, they were allowed to remain on several conditions, one of them that they should play "panic," the game of the evening, in all fairness. Miss Lenore Schumacher won the game prize and Miss Della Gremis the consolation prize. A luncheon of salad, pickles, sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee were served. The guests and club members were Mrs. S. G. Gillam, Mrs. G. H. Colbert, Mrs. Conrad Yehle, Mrs. Roy Collins, Misses Hazel Ritchie, Nelle Campbell, Della and Kittle Gremis, Rose and Lenore Schumacher, Messrs. George M. Baird and Charles Converse of St. Joseph, and Mr. and Mrs. George R. Eaton.

FINAL EFFORT TO RETIRE HUERTA

United States Centers Negotiations to This End.

POWERS APPRISED OF MOVE.

President Wilson Satisfied That Peace in Mexico Will Be Brought About if Other Nations Agree to American Policy—Wants Free Rein.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Though every official of the United States government has been cautioned to maintain absolute silence while the plans of the Washington administration for solving the Mexican problem are worked out, it became known from many well informed sources that a supreme effort is being made to bring about General Victoriano Huerta's retirement from the provisional presidency of Mexico.

It is the belief of the administration that any plan for a constitutional election in Mexico depends on Huerta's elimination and some declaration from Huerta now is awaited.

The future policy of the United States is being quietly and informally made known in diplomatic circles abroad and there are intimations that before many days foreign governments generally will have been apprised of the American attitude. It is unlikely that there will be any publication of the American policy until Europe has been formally sounded out. What the United States desires, it is believed, is that the powers shall indicate their support of its efforts to solve the problem before it approaches the Mexico City administration in a final effort to secure the elimination of Huerta.

Confer With Powers.

The conference at Vera Cruz between John Lind, representative of President Wilson, and the Norwegian and German ministers is believed to have been held with that end in view.

Senator Bacon, chairman of the foreign relations committee, said the one thing needed to insure a peaceful settlement of the Mexican problem was for the European governments to indicate in some positive way that they intended to leave in the hands of the United States the formation of a policy to be pursued toward Mexico and that they would give the policy their support.

"If this is made so clear," he said, "that General Huerta will understand, he will be compelled to accede to any demand made by the United States and a peaceful solution of the Mexican problem would promptly be found."

The subject of much comment in official circles is the absence of official denial to the many stories forecasting intervention. Such officials as were asked if they would authorize a denial that the United States might use drastic measures in case Huerta refused to yield, said they did not care to discuss the matter.

MEXICAN WOMEN IN RANKS

"Soldaderas" Fight Bravely With Their Brothers.

Delrio, Tex., Nov. 3.—Women of Mexico are playing a prominent part in the welfare of the southern republic, either as "soldaderas," foraging successfully for their men folk in the armies, or occasionally as actual fighters. Many women have left their homes rather than remain alone, and a few of them have gone under fire from motives of revenge. In the siege now in progress at Monterey, a valued member of General Pablo Gonzales' constitutionalist command is Senorita Marie Sanchez, said to be a wealthy Castilian, whose brother was shot by federal irregulars. She left a luxurious home and begged permission to replace her brother.

Recently at Monclova, a son of Senora Plimantal of that city, had been sentenced to be shot. The mother, it was said, entered the federal jail by stealth and, stabbing two guards, released her boy and both escaped to the constitutionalist headquarters at Hermanos.

In the federal ranks there is told the story of the wife of an officer who led the rebels into an ambush at Puertacarmen, and though fired upon by the angered rebels, galloped through the lines to her husband's side.

When less than a month ago the federal army of General Maas occupied the constitutionalists' provisional capital at Piedras Negras, "soldaderas" guarded the wagon trains which their skill as foragers had supplied.

Carranza Wants Arms.

Nogales, Sonora, Mex., Nov. 3.—Through Dr. Henry Allen Tupper of the international peace forum, who is regarded as an unofficial agent of the American secretary of state, General Venustiano Carranza, head of the rebel constitutionalists of Mexico, transmitted to the United States government an official statement which suggests that President Wilson can solve the Mexican problem merely by according to the constitutionalists the right to import arms freely from the United States.

Prisoners Will Be Known by Names.

Atlanta, Nov. 3.—Prisoners at the Atlanta federal penitentiary hereafter will be known by names, instead of by numbers, and their uniforms no longer will bear the letters "U. S. P."

Was the Closing Lecture.

Dr. Samuel Dodds, who has been giving a series of lectures at the First M. E. church to the congregations of that church and the First Presbyterian church, gave his closing lecture on Sunday night. These Bible lectures have been a great success, but the attendance was not as good as it should have been. During the last week, one reason for this was on account of the teachers' meeting. The lectures were all exceptionally good. Dr. Dodds left Maryville Monday morning for Joplin, Mo., where he will give a series of lectures in the First Presbyterian church of that city.

Announce Birth of Son.

Rev. and Mrs. O. G. Matthews of Liberty, Mo., announce the birth of a son, Craig G. Matthews, October 28, 1913. Mrs. Matthews was Miss Antoinette Craig of Maryville. The announcement was received in Maryville Sunday by Mrs. Fred Kurtz.

A NATIONAL COMMISSION

Of Experts to Study the Whole Subject of Good Roads in This Country.

Recent events foreshadow, in the near future, the creation of a national commission of experts to study the whole subject of good roads in this country, and to recommend the most effective basis on which the national government can take part in road building.

Among the resolutions adopted by the American road congress at Detroit was one requesting congress to authorize the president of the United States "to appoint a commission from civil life, with a sufficient appropriation to make a thorough and exhaustive report on and to recommend a system of federal aid."

Highway commissioners, engineers, legislators and good roads men generally are becoming convinced that it would be unwise for the government to commit itself to any road building plan on a large scale without first availing itself of the results of careful study by such a commission. Any plan to be effective must involve a large expenditure of money, and many of the aspects of the subject are so technical that it cannot properly be considered at first by a congressional committee. The great national irrigation projects, the Sault Saint Marie canal, the vast river and harbor improvements of the nation, and finally the Panama canal—all called for special expert commissions. How much greater the need if the nation is to build roads! On the wisdom of its plan will depend the usefulness of its roads.

Advocates of a national highway system built and maintained entirely by the government will regret that the Detroit resolution limited the activities of the proposed commission to securing "federal aid," but all will approve of another resolution that was adopted at the same time. This stated "that the American road congress favors the establishment of a national road system, and favors the construction by the states, counties and towns of the lateral and connecting market highways."

That is exactly the plan which the National Highways association is working for, and on which, in all probability, the proposed commission will ultimately decide. Given national trunk lines, the states cannot afford to delay and will not delay improving the inter-county roads that connect with them; the counties cannot afford not to improve the inter-town roads that connect with the state systems, and the towns cannot afford not to improve the local farm and market roads that connect with the county and state systems.

The cry of "federal aid for farm roads" sounds well, but federal aid on a scale large enough to take care of a million or more miles of farm roads is obviously out of the question, and if the farmers wait for results from it most of them will "die in the mud." A system of 50,000 or 100,000 miles of national highways, similar to that advocated by the National Highways association, will bring good roads to the farmers far more quickly.

CONGRESS MARKS TIME

Awaits Report of Senate Committee on Currency Bill.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Congress will mark time this week awaiting the report of the senate banking and currency committee on the administration currency bill. Even this committee adjourned until Wednesday because of various local elections. The house will reconvene Wednesday and the senate will meet today and adjourn until Thursday.

The senate committee has reported a troublesome point in consideration of the currency bill, which may prevent the unanimous support which has been hoped for. Several members of the committee have declared unless the government is given control of the four regional reserve banks agreed upon they will carry the fight to the floor of the senate. Under the administration bill the banks would be controlled by directors elected by the member banks, and administration supporters are holding out vigorously for this provision.

CAR STRIKERS IN NEW RIOT

Police Unable to Prevent Bloodshed at Indianapolis.

ONE STRIKE BREAKER KILLED.

Shot Fired From Barn Fatally Wounds Man—Motorman Is Struck by Shot Fired by Policeman—Street Cars Are Withdrawn.

Indianapolis, Nov. 3.—The Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company, whose men are on a strike, attempted to run its cars, but gave up when notified by Superintendent of Police Hyland that the police would be unable to prevent bloodshed unless the cars were withdrawn. Joseph Johnson, a striking motorman, was shot and wounded by a policeman, who fired into the crowd that surged around the first car to be sent out. Two cars were taken from the barns, each filled with policemen, but the crowds packed around them so tightly they could not be moved. Soon after the shooting of Johnson, they were ordered back to the barns.

Governor Ralston in a statement charged that the city authorities were not doing their duty in failing to provide police protection. He refused a request of Mayor Lew Shank for state troops, declaring the mayor had full authority and power to provide sufficient protection to run the cars.

Strike Breaker Killed.

In an attempt to rush the Louisiana street car barns, where the imported strike breakers are quartered, Isaac Fleischer, a strike breaker from Philadelphia, was fatally shot in the neck and died on the way to the city hospital. Fleischer was shot by one of the men in the barn, who was firing into the crowd from a second-story window.

The police had the streets around the barns roped and when they let down the ropes for an automobile to pass, the crowd rushed through. The strikers and their friends pushed past the police and as they approached the barns they were met with a volley of shots.

Fleischer fell almost at the feet of Police Sergeant Sanders, whom he was helping to stop the rush. He was the only one hit. The mob then started for the Washington street barns, but was met at the Labor temple by Milton L. Clawson, an attorney prominent in labor circles, who persuaded them to disperse.

U. S. AIDS FARMERS' WIVES

Department of Agriculture Offers Reading Courses on Work.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The department of agriculture issued its first statement with regard to bettering the condition of the women on the farms.

The experts of the department have prepared courses of reading in subjects interesting to farm women. These courses take up over 100 general subjects, with as many as ten bulletins on each particular subject. All of this reading material may be secured simply by writing the chief of the bureau of publications at the department of agriculture.

One set of bulletins deals with dairying, while other sets concern poultry, butter, cheese, cream, and milk especially. There are sets on bees, birds and insects.

Farm conveniences in general have one set of bulletins to describe them, and farmers' institutes another. Hints on how to prepare foods cover a wide range of subjects, while the fireless cooker is the subject of a separate bulletin.

Wm. Bays Had Just Greeted Friends When He Fell Over Dead—Burial at Workman Chapel Monday.

William Bays of the Pickering neighborhood, a well known farmer who had lived for thirty-three years in this county, died suddenly Saturday forenoon as he was driving to Maryville in company with his wife. They had just passed some friends, whom Mr. Bays greeted pleasantly with a wave of his hand, when he fell forward and died instantly. Physicians summoned pronounced the cause of his death as paralysis of the heart. They were only one mile from their home, seven miles northwest of Pickering.

Mr. Bays was a native of Indiana, coming to Nodaway county in 1880. He was not a member of any church, but had preference for the church of the old school Baptist faith.

The pall bearers were N. C. LeGrande, Edward Zwilling, James Koger, Burley Swaney, Herman Sears and M. E. Buzzard.

Mr. Bays is survived by his wife and six children.

Mrs. J. P. Weatherford, Litchfield, Ill., says: "We have had an invalid child for the past nine years and until we began using Vinol, we sometimes thought there was little hope for him. He would have terrible coughing spells at night, and they would leave him so exhausted. We tried everything, but to no avail. At last some one suggested that we try Vinol, and we noticed a change in him from the very first. The coughing spells ceased and he gained in strength right along. We would not be without it and would advise parents who have frail and weakly children to try Vinol."

This is because the child needed the strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron that Vinol contains. No oil, delicious taste. Children love it. We give back your money if Vinol does not benefit.—Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

FOR FR. ANSELM

BIG DAY AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH IN HIS HONOR.

A 33-YEARS' PASTORATE

Protestants Also Told of Love Thirty Years' Acquaintance Had Fostered—Basket Dinner in Basement.

Sunday was a big day at St. Mary's Catholic church. It was a home-coming in honor of Rev. Fr. Anselm, who just returned Friday from a several months' trip in Europe, and a visit to his mother at Lucerne, Switzerland. A basket dinner in his honor was given in the basement of the church at the noon hour, served by the members of the church. Everything good to eat and plenty of it was there.

While Fr. Anselm and all the dinner guests were taking their places at the well-laden tables, the children of St. Mary's school sang a welcome song. Frank Linneman, a young boy, made a welcome address to Fr. Anselm on behalf of the children after all were seated.

Several people from outside the church were invited to be guests at the dinner, all close friends of Fr. Anselm. They were Judge W. C. Ellison, W. A. Blagg, W. C. Pierce, W. F. Phares, James Todd, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hosmer, Mr. and Mrs. Berney Harris, Dr. and Mrs. C. V. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Shoemaker, James B. Robinson and Edward Keck.

During the serving of the dinner music was furnished by an orchestra of five pieces with Miss Hilda Lehr at the piano.

Augustus Romasser presided as toastmaster and made a fine talk in welcoming Fr. Anselm back to his parish. He spoke of the time Fr. Anselm took charge of the church, thirty-three years ago, and what he had accomplished in that time, a few being a good church building free of debt, a magnificent school building, and St. Francis hospital. He referred to the love and esteem the church people held for him, and that it extended outside of the church to the non-Catholic. On behalf of a few of Fr. Anselm's friends outside of the church, a purse of $100 in gold was presented to the reverend father by Mr. Romasser.

W. A. Blagg was the next speaker, and he spoke of the affection and the love and esteem the people outside the church had for Fr. Anselm. Judge Ellison followed Mr. Blagg with a talk about Fr. Anselm, Mr. Ellison becoming acquainted with him about thirty years ago.

A song was given by the church choir and solos by Miss Bertha Church of this city and Mr. R. J. Gallagher of Columbus, O. The choir presented Fr. Anselm a bouquet of flowers.

Fr. Anselm made a short talk and said that on his entire trip of 5,000 miles he had seen many beautiful scenes, but none of them were as beautiful and meant so much to him as did the one at the basket dinner. It was with deep emotion that Fr. Anselm spoke, but every one of his remarks were well listened to by the large audience in attendance.

144 MILES OF ROAD

STATE WILL PAY COUNTY $180 A MONTH FOR DRAGGING.

TO ADVERTISE FOR BIDS

Nodaway county is going to receive $180 a month for the past three months, August, September and October, or $540, for the dragging of the county seat roads as selected by the Nodaway county highway commission. The county court in session this week will make requisition for that amount on the state treasury. State Highway Engineer Buffum having already approved the claims of this county.

According to the county seat routes as selected by the county commission, the total mileage of state roads is 144 miles in this county. For each mile $15 a year for dragging is allowed by the state. This amount will be paid in monthly installments.

State Highway Engineer Buffum has not inspected the roads as chosen by the county commission and he having allowed the county money for the past three months does not necessarily mean that he has approved the roads as selected by the commission here. It is thought that Buffum will change some of the roads next spring, but that in the meantime the county will receive money for the 144 miles.

The county commission intends to advertise for bids soon for the dragging of these roads. They would like to have the roads dragged yet this year.

RED HEADED DUCK FROM NORTHWEST HAS GONE FAR AFIELD.

PROVED HIS CAPACITY

Prof. Oakerson Deserves Unstinted Praise for Success of the Recent Gathering Which Endorsed Him.

One of the most noted and important educational gatherings of the state was the joint teachers' association meeting of the counties of Nodaway, Andrew, Holt, Atchison, Gentry and Worth counties, held in this city Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

This meeting was important beyond the ordinary, because of the large number of teachers present from the counties comprising the union and the excellence of the program rendered. Seldom has a program, either state or national, embraced a nearer up-to-date field of educational thought than this one prepared by Mr. Oakerson and his excellent corps of assistants.

Again, the precision and regularity observed in carrying through this excellent program deserve the highest commendation and will receive such commendation from those who have ever had occasion to wrestle with the innumerable difficulties attendant upon carrying out a project in which so many and complicated details are involved.

A highly important end was attained in bringing this meeting to Maryville, the site of our State Normal, and in focusing educational interests around the teachers of the district an opportunity of becoming acquainted with the leaders of educational thought, who work in our Normal here and of looking in upon the management of the school at closer range, as well as the opportunity of viewing the splendid equipment the state has so generously provided.

It has thus come about that the queen city of the northwest is no longer afar off in an obscure corner beyond recognition, but has come into place in the fore-front of things and is the observed of all observers, so that when we offer to the state an opportunity to utilize the energy and efficiency in a broader sphere of activity of the man who does things and brings things to pass—the people of other parts of the state will sit up and take notice that the red-headed duck from the northwest has already gone far afield, and that all this people will stand loyally back of his pretensions for they know what his unobtrusive but determined energy can do.

If Prof. Oakerson had done no more than to bring our city and our Normal into prominence he would deserve high credit; but when we recognize the fact that through his judicious care and thoughtful consideration there was brought together here on our home platform an aggregation of talent whose range of thought was broad enough to cover the widest field of human endeavor, easily comparable to any, even the best Chautauqua menu, he is deserving of unstinted praise.

Not to discriminate against other and excellent numbers on the program, should not special emphasis be put upon the lectures of Steiner, Day, Athearn and Carney, as furnishing food for thought away beyond the average?

To honor the several superintendents of the counties represented by assigning positions on the program was delicately and thoughtfully planned, leaving no room for criticism, even to the most sensitive, evincing high-bred courtesy on the part of the management.

Mr. Oakerson and his compeers have again made good, and The Democrat-Forum says amen to the resolution endorsing him for a wider field of activity, that of state superintendent of schools.

BARNARD TOOK FIRST.

Their School Had Greatest Number of Exhibits—Won $40 Prize Money.

Much interest was manifested by the different schools over the county in the domestic science and corn growing contest held in connection with the joint teachers' association in this city. The Barnard schools have won the $10 prize for the past three years for the greatest number of exhibits entered. This year their exhibits numbered fifty, and the prize money amounted to more than $40.

Arrested for Drunkenness.

Bert Evans was arrested on a charge of drunkenness on Saturday evening. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $2 and costs, amounting to $8.10.

BANQUETED THE ABBOT.

The Conception college students succeeded in preparing a birthday surprise for the worthy abbot, Frowin Conrad, of the Conception parish, on Saturday evening, on the eve of his eightieth birthday anniversary, which was Sunday.

Although announcement had been made in the papers that the day would be celebrated, the students managed to keep the papers from the notice of the abbot, and the affair proved to be a complete surprise, as they had intended it to be.

Saturday evening at 6 o'clock Abbot Frowin was summoned to the dining hall of the college, and thinking he was being called on special business, responded at once, and when the door opened to admit him he was greeted with cheers from the students and a burst of music from the college orchestra. He was escorted to a seat at the banquet table before he could hardly realize what was on.

The whole affair was in charge of the students. M. L. Leahy acted as toastmaster. The opening address was made by J. J. McCaffray; an address in Latin by R. J. Roney; an address in German by Fritz Baumgarten, and an acrostic poem to the Abbot by A. McDonnell. This was followed by a speech from one of the junior boys, R. Newton. Then Dr. L. J. Randurant of St. Joseph, an alumni of the college, gave an address in praise of the abbot's work, and all of these were responded to at the close by a splendid extemporaneous speech from Abbot Frowin, who appreciated the demonstration the college boys had made for him.

At the close of the abbot's speech, Mr. J. McCaffray read letters and telegrams and cablegrams of congratulations to Abbot Frowin from Bishop Burke of St. Joseph, Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis, F. Aidan Gasquet, the abbot Primate of England; Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee, and last was the message conveying papal blessing from the pope at Rome, sent by Abbot Primate, head of the St. Benedictine order of Rome.

Mr. Hoffman has been in Washington, D. C., the past few days in conference with the executive committee of the association. There were twenty-five applicants for the place, and Mr. Hoffman was selected as one of the six applicants to appear before the committee at Washington.

It is expected that Mr. Hoffman will arrive in Maryville on Tuesday evening.

CASES AFFIRMED.

The lower court sustained the county court and an appeal was taken to the Kansas City court of appeals. It was first reversed, then a rehearing granted, and the court decided the case as stated above.

The Lyons case has been up for some time. In the circuit court here the case was decided against Lyons. An appeal was taken, the court of appeals reversed the case, then a rehearing granted and the court affirmed the case.

High Praise for Maud Powell.

The following article is taken from Musical America, one of the most responsible musical journals in the country. Recent Kubelik and Powell recitals given in New York City are reviewed, and the comparisons made between the work of the two great violinists strongly favor Maud Powell. That part of the article which relates to the Powell recital is as follows:

While Maud Powell's artistry is of such a calibre as infallibly to delight at any time it was a wise impulse that prompted her to give her first New York recital of the year before the innumerable concerts, recitals and other musical functions with which music lovers of this vicinity are deluged arrive in full force to divide attention. The violinist was welcomed with whole-hearted cordiality at Aeolian hall last Tuesday evening. Her offerings were far from the conventional collection. A novelty to New York, the late Coleridge-Taylor's G Minor Concerto, opened the list, followed by one of the less familiar Bach sonatas, in E. A rather over-lengthy but interestingly atmospheric tone picture by Marion Bauer, "The Oklahoma River," painted in modern French harmonic colors, followed, while thereafter came short numbers by Grasse, Burleigh, Borgh, Gilbert, Dvorak, Beethoven, Brahms, Sarasate and others.

Mme. Powell's playing disclosed its familiar qualifications—that is, artistic finish, beauty of tone, vitality; emotional sensibility, refinement and rare intelligence in the conception and delivery of each work; rhythmic life and general excellence of technical finish. Her execution of the concerto was marked by breadth, dramatic energy and certain grasp of its content. The work itself is rich in noteworthy ideas, distinguished both in its thematic material and in the treatment thereof.

Francis Moore, a young pianist unfamiliar here, took his place at a board among the foremost accompanists that have been heard in New York in recent years.

The doughnuts and cider were stolen, but was finally rescued by a ghost.

Mrs. T. B. Maulding read of the success of an auxiliary president, after which interesting and entertaining reports of the Des Moines branch meeting were given by Mrs. Leslie Dean, who was a delegate to the recent meeting in Kansas City, and Miss Lucile Airy, who also attended the meeting. Mrs. Arthur A. Brewer was the guest of the afternoon. During the social hour the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Roy Collins and Miss Gladys Ford.

Halloween Class Party.

The Junior Loyal Daughters of the Christian church Bible school were entertained Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Barbour, Miss Leavy Barbour and Misses Gladys and Leah Norris being the hostesses, assisted by the class teacher, Miss Hazel Porter. All the decorations were to celebrate Halloween, pumpkins as jack-o'-lanterns and beautiful autumn leaves being used in profusion. A ghost received the guests and silently directed them upstairs, where another ghost directed them to the cloak room. Another ghost came and pointed the way to the attic, where each was commanded to register their names by another ghost, who afterward served them rider. On returning down-stair they had their fortunes told by a witch, and ghost stories were related and many games played. A luncheon of sandwiches, salad, pickles and cocoa was served.

Children's Party a Success.

Christian church Bible school in the church parlors Saturday afternoon was quite a success. Fifty-six little folks and thirty mothers were there together to enjoy the games at drop the handkerchief, button-button, hunting peanut and animal cookies, fishing peanuts from tubs of water, pinning the tail on a donkey while blindfolded, singing the primary Bible school songs, and eating ice cream and cake. The room was lighted by Japanese lanterns and jack-o'-lanterns. Those in charge of the afternoon's pleasure for the little folks and their mothers were Miss Florence Young, the superintendent, and the teachers, Mrs. Edward Hamlin, Mrs. J. D. Richey, Mrs. Harry Todd, Mrs. F. P. Robinson, Mrs. G. B. Roseberry, Mrs. Lee Crossan, Misses Hermion Fisher and Olivette Godsey.

Miss Halcyon Hooker entertained the members of the Sunday school class of which she is a member, with a Halloween party Saturday evening. The class is of the First Presbyterian church Sunday school and Mrs. Gallatin Craig is the teacher. The guests came in fantastic attire or as ghosts, just as their fancy dictated. Some little time was spent in toasting marshmallows by a fire out in the yard, and then all came into the house where a witch told their fortunes and games played. After the luncheon of cheese sandwiches, apples and nuts and cider, a musical program was given by Hal T. Hooker, Miss Lou Hughes of Hopkins, Helen Rose and Bernice Crawford and the hostess. The members of the class are Sylvia Barr, Faye Farmer, Helen Rose and Bernice Crawford, Margaret Dietz, and Halcyon Hooker. The other guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hooker, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Hooker, Mrs. Gallatin Craig, Miss Laura Craig, Misses Grace Dietz, Mildred Shinabargar, Blanche Masters, Gladys Sewell, Marie Davenport, Lucile Wright, Mildred Hall.

Black Cat Club Celebrated.

Mrs. George R. Eaton of South Main street was hostess to the Black Cat club Saturday evening. The rooms were adorned with black cats of all sizes and ages and lighted by "jack-o'-lights" and black cat lanterns. Assisting the hostess in receiving were three ghosts, who proved their genuineness when their hands came off in each of the guests hands they greeted, a terrifying experience to most of them. After the guests had played several games with the ghosts, they unmasked, and lo, they were found to be "men," which nearly created a panic among the "black cats." However, they were allowed to remain on several conditions, one of them that they should play "panic," the game of the evening, in all fairness. Miss Lenore Schumacher won the game prize and Miss Della Grems the consolation prize. A luncheon of salad, pickles, sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee were served. The guests and club members were Mrs. S. G. Gilliam, Mrs. G. H. Colbert, Mrs. Conrad Yehle, Mrs. Roy Collins, Misses Hazel Ritchie, Nelle Campbell, Della and Kittle Grems, Rose and Lenore Schumacher, Messrs. George M. Baird and Charles Converse of St. Joseph, and Mr. and Mrs. George R. Eaton.

FINAL EFFORT TO RETIRE HUERTA

POWERS APPRISED OF MOVE.

President Wilson Satisfied That Peace in Mexico Will Be Brought About If Other Nations Agree to American Policy—Wants Free Rein.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Though every official of the United States government has been cautioned to maintain absolute silence while the plans of the Washington administration for solving the Mexican problem are worked out, it became known from many well informed sources that a supreme effort is being made to bring about General Victoriano Huerta's retirement from the provisional presidency of Mexico.

It is the belief of the administration that any plan for a constitutional election in Mexico depends on Huerta's elimination and some declaration from Huerta now is awaited.

The future policy of the United States is being quietly and informally made known in diplomatic circles abroad and there are intimations that before many days foreign governments generally will have been apprised of the American attitude. It is unlikely that there will be any publication of the American policy until Europe has been formally sounded out. What the United States desires, it is believed, is that the powers shall indicate their support of its efforts to solve the problem before it approaches the Mexico City administration in a final effort to secure the elimination of Huerta.

Confer With Powers.

The conference at Vera Cruz between John Lind, representative of President Wilson, and the Norwegian and German ministers is believed to have been held with that end in view.

Senator Bacon, chairman of the foreign relations committee, said the one thing needed to insure a peaceful settlement of the Mexican problem was for the European governments to indicate in some positive way that they intended to leave in the hands of the United States the formation of a policy to be pursued toward Mexico and that they would give the policy their support.

"If this is made so clear," he said, "that General Huerta will understand, he will be compelled to accede to any demand made by the United States and a peaceful solution of the Mexican problem would promptly be found."

The subject of much comment in official circles is the absence of official denial to the many stories forecasting intervention. Such officials as were asked if they would authorize a denial that the United States might use drastic measures in case Huerta refused to yield, said they did not care to discuss the matter.

"Soldaderas" Fight Bravely With Their Brothers.

Delrio, Tex., Nov. 3.—Women of Mexico are playing a prominent part in the welfare of the southern republic, either as "soldaderas," foraging successfully for their men folk in the armies, or occasionally as actual fighters. Many women have left their homes rather than remain alone, and a few of them have gone under fire from motives of revenge. In the siege now in progress at Monterey, a valued member of General Pablo Gonzales' constitutionalist command is Senorita Marie Sanchez, said to be a wealthy Castilian, whose brother was shot by federal irregulars. She left a luxurious home and begged permission to replace her brother.

Recently at Monclova, a son of Senora Pimental of that city, had been sentenced to be shot. The mother, it was said, entered the federal jail by stealth and, stabbing two guards, released her boy and both escaped to the constitutionalist headquarters at Hermanos.

In the federal ranks there is told the story of the wife of an officer who led the rebels into an ambushade at Puertacarrment, and though fired upon by the angered rebels, galloped through the lines to her husband's side.

When less than a month ago the federal army of General Maas occupied the constitutionalists' provisional capital at Piedras Negras, "soldaderas" guarded the wagon trains which their skill as foragers had supplied.

Carranza Wants Arms.

Nogales, Sonora, Mex., Nov. 3.—Through Dr. Henry Allen Tupper of the international peace forum, who is regarded as an unofficial agent of the American secretary of state, General Venustiano Carranza, head of the rebel constitutionalists of Mexico, transmitted to the United States government an official statement which suggests that President Wilson can solve the Mexican problem merely by according to the constitutionalists the right to import arms freely from the United States.

Prisoners Will Be Known by Names.

Atlanta, Nov. 3.—Prisoners at the Atlanta federal penitentiary hereafter will be known by names, instead of by numbers, and their uniforms no longer will bear the letters "U. S. P."

Was the Closing Lecture.

Dr. Samuel Dodds, who has been giving a series of lectures at the First M. E. church to the congregations of that church and the First Presbyterian church, gave his closing lecture on Sunday night. These Bible lectures have been a great success, but the attendance was not as good as it should have been. During the last week, one reason for this was on account of the teachers' meeting. The lectures were all exceptionally good. Dr. Dodds left Maryville Monday morning for Joplin, Mo., where he will give a series of lectures in the First Presbyterian church of that city.

Announce Birth of Son.

Rev. and Mrs. O. G. Matthews of Liberty, Mo., announce the birth of a son, Craig G. Matthews, October 28, 1913. Mrs. Matthews was Miss Antoinette Craig of Maryville. The announcement was received in Maryville Sunday by Mrs. Fred Kurtz.

A NATIONAL COMMISSION

Of Experts to Study the Whole Subject of Good Roads in This Country.

Recent events foreshadow, in the near future, the creation of a national commission of experts to study the whole subject of good roads in this country, and to recommend the most effective basis on which the national government can take part in road building.

Among the resolutions adopted by the American road congress at Detroit was one requesting congress to authorize the president of the United States "to appoint a commission from civil life, with a sufficient appropriation to make a thorough and exhaustive report on and to recommend a system of federal aid."

Highway commissioners, engineers, legislators and good-roads men generally are becoming convinced that it would be unwise for the government to commit itself to any road building plan on a large scale without first availing itself of the results of careful study by such a commission. Any plan to be effective must involve a large expenditure of money, and many of the aspects of the subject are so technical that it cannot properly be considered at first by a congressional committee. The great national irrigation projects, the Sault Saint Marie canal, the vast river and harbor improvements of the nation, and finally the Panama canal—all called for special expert commissions. How much greater the need if the nation is to build roads! On the wisdom of its plan will depend the usefulness of its roads.

Advocates of a national highway system built and maintained entirely by the government will regret that the Detroit resolution limited the activities of the proposed commission to securing "federal aid," but all will approve of another resolution that was adopted at the same time. This stated "that the American road congress favors the establishment of a national road system, and favors the construction by the states, counties and towns of the lateral and connecting market highways."

That is exactly the plan which the National Highways association is working for, and on which, in all probability, the proposed commission will ultimately decide. Given national trunk lines, the states cannot afford to delay and will not delay improving the inter-county roads that connect with them; the counties cannot afford not to improve the inter-town roads that connect with the state systems, and the towns cannot afford not to improve the local farm and market roads that connect with the county and state systems.

The cry of "federal aid for farm roads" sounds well, but federal aid on a scale large enough to take care of a million or more miles of farm roads is obviously out of the question, and if the farmers wait for results from it most of them will "die in the mud." A system of 50,000 or 100,000 miles of national highways, similar to that advocated by the National Highways association, will bring good roads to the farmers far more quickly.

CONGRESS MARKS TIME

Awaits Report of Senate Committee on Currency Bill.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Congress will mark time this week awaiting the report of the senate banking and currency committee on the administration currency bill. Even this committee adjourned until Wednesday because of various local elections. The house will reconvene Wednesday and the senate will meet today and adjourn until Thursday.

The senate committee has reported a troublesome point in consideration of the currency bill, which may prevent the unanimous support which has been hoped for. Several members of the committee have declared unless the government is given control of the four regional reserve banks agreed upon they will carry the fight to the floor of the senate. Under the administration bill the banks would be controlled by directors elected by the member banks, and administration supporters are holding out vigorously for this provision.

CAR STRIKERS IN NEW RIOT

Police Unable to Prevent Bloodshed at Indianapolis.

ONE STRIKE BREAKER KILLED.

Shot Fired From Barn Fatally Wounds Man—Motorman Is Struck by Shot Fired by Policeman—Street Cars Are Withdrawn.

Indianapolis, Nov. 3.—The Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company, whose men are on a strike, attempted to run its cars, but gave up when notified by Superintendent of Police Hyland that the police would be unable to prevent bloodshed unless the cars were withdrawn. Joseph Johnson, a striking motorman, was shot and wounded by a policeman, who fired into the crowd that surged around the first car to be sent out. Two cars were taken from the barns, each filled with policemen, but the crowds packed around them so tightly they could not be moved. Soon after the shooting of Johnson, they were ordered back to the barns.

Governor Ralston in a statement charged that the city authorities were not doing their duty in failing to provide police protection. He refused a request of Mayor Lew Shank for state troops, declaring the mayor had full authority and power to provide sufficient protection to run the cars.

Strike Breaker Killed.

In an attempt to rush the Louisiana street car barns, where the imported strike breakers are quartered, Isaac Fleischer, a strike breaker from Philadelphia, was fatally shot in the neck and died on the way to the city hospital. Fleischer was shot by one of the men in the barn, who was firing into the crowd from a second-story window.

The police had the streets around the barns roped and when they let down the ropes for an automobile to pass, the crowd rushed through. The strikers and their friends pushed past the police and as they approached the barns they were met with a volley of shots.

Fleischer fell almost at the feet of Police Sergeant Sanders, whom he was helping to stop the rush. He was the only one hit. The mob then started for the Washington street barns, but was met at the Labor temple by Milton L. Clawson, an attorney prominent in labor circles, who persuaded them to disperse.

U. S. AIDS FARMERS' WIVES

Department of Agriculture Offers Reading Courses on Work.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The department of agriculture issued its first statement with regard to bettering the condition of the women on the farms. The experts of the department have prepared courses of reading in subjects interesting to farm women.

These courses take up over 100 general subjects, with as many as ten bulletins on each particular subject. All of this reading material may be secured simply by writing the chief of the bureau of publications at the department of agriculture.

One set of bulletins deals with dairying, while other sets concern poultry, butter, cheese, cream, and milk especially. There are sets on bees, birds and insects.

Farm conveniences in general have one set of bulletins to describe them, and farmers' institutes another. Hints on how to prepare foods cover a wide range of subjects, while the fireless cooker is the subject of a separate bulletin.

Beilis Defense Scores Point.

Kiev, Russia, Nov. 3.—Counsel for the defense in the trial of Mendel Beilis, charged with murdering the Christian boy Yushinsky, have succeeded in preventing the prosecution from having the minutes read of previous cases dealing with alleged ritual murder. The medical testimony having been concluded, the sitting began with the hearing of theological witnesses, among whom only one upholds the views of the prosecution, namely, the priest, Father Pranates, whose evidence already to a great extent has been repudiated by the Vatican authorities.

DIED OF HEART PARALYSIS.

Wm. Bays Had Just Greeted Friends When He Fell Over Dead—Burial at Workman Chapel Monday.

William Bays of the Pickering neighborhood, a well known farmer who had lived for thirty-three years in this county, died suddenly Saturday forenoon as he was driving to Maryville in company with his wife. They had just passed some friends, whom Mr. Bays greeted pleasantly with a wave of his hand, when he fell forward and died instantly. Physicians summoned pronounced the cause of his death as paralysis of the heart. They were only one mile from their home, seven miles northwest of Pickering.

Mr. Bays was 69 years old the 15th of September last. He had been in unusually good health for six months and his death is a severe shock to his wife and children.

The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock at Workman chapel, northwest of Maryville, by Rev. Moore of Parkdale. Burial took place in the chapel cemetery.

Mr. Bays was a native of Indiana, coming to Nodaway county in 1880. He was not a member of any church, but had preference for the church of the old school Baptist faith.

The pall bearers were N. C. LeGrande, Edward Zwilling, James Koger, Burley Swaney, Herman Sears and M. E. Buzzard.

FRAIL, WEAKLY CHILD

Made Strong by Vinol.

So many cases like this are coming to our attention for the benefit of fathers and mothers of weak, sickly, ailing children in this vicinity we publish the following letter:

Mrs. J. P. Weatherford, Litchfield, Ill., says: "We have had an invalid child for the past nine years and until we began using Vinol, we sometimes thought there was little hope for him. He would have terrible coughing spells at night, and they would leave him so exhausted. We tried everything, but to no avail. At last some one suggested that we try Vinol, and we noticed a change in him from the very first. The coughing spells ceased and he gained in strength right along. We would not be without it and would advise parents who have frail and weakly children to try Vinol."

This is because the child needed the strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron that Vinol contains. No oil, delicious taste. Children love it. We give back your money if Vinol does not benefit.—Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement

Printed on the front of every official time table which goes to Wabash employees are two large circles, "SAFETY ALWAYS." Printed on the back of every official time table are these words: "SAFETY should be the first consideration of every employee." It is a constant admonition to every Wabash trainman, for the protection of every Wabash traveler. Beginning with the human factor, the Wabash surrounds its travelers with every mechanical safeguard known to modern railroadism: Steel equipment; automatic electric block signals; miles of double track; heavy rails and substantial roadbed; telephone dispatching, etc.
